NOTES TO USERS

This map reflects more detailed and up-to-date information than is available on other maps. A data source for this FIRM is the National Flood Insurance Program (FIP), which is a master database of information from many sources. The FIP is maintained by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and is based on information submitted to FEMA by various state agencies and local floodplain managers. Where possible, this information has been updated to the data available through this FIP. In some cases, this information may not be current. For more detailed and up-to-date information, please refer to the separately printed Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM) panel, which was issued in digital format by the State of [State Name] and compiled at a scale of 1:400 from aerial photography dated March 2006.

Base map information shown on this FIRM map was compiled in digital format by the State of [State Name] and the U.S. Census Bureau. This information was geospatially referenced to a scale of 1:24,000 from aerial photography dated [date].

To obtain more detailed information in areas where flood elevations have been determined, users are encouraged to consult the Flood Profiles and Information Table located in the Flood Insurance Study report for this jurisdiction.

This map reflects more detailed and up-to-date information than is available on other maps. A data source for this FIRM is the National Flood Insurance Program (FIP), which is a master database of information from many sources. The FIP is maintained by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and is based on information submitted to FEMA by various state agencies and local floodplain managers. Where possible, this information has been updated to the data available through this FIP. In some cases, this information may not be current. For more detailed and up-to-date information, please refer to the separately printed Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM) panel, which was issued in digital format by the State of [State Name] and compiled at a scale of 1:400 from aerial photography dated March 2006.

Base map information shown on this FIRM map was compiled in digital format by the State of [State Name] and the U.S. Census Bureau. This information was geospatially referenced to a scale of 1:24,000 from aerial photography dated [date].

To obtain more detailed information in areas where flood elevations have been determined, users are encouraged to consult the Flood Profiles and Information Table located in the Flood Insurance Study report for this jurisdiction.

These flood elevations must be compared to structure and ground elevations referenced to NGVD29. Differences in datum, zone, and elevation between the Flood Insurance Study report and any other jurisdiction may result in slight positional differences in map features across jurisdiction boundaries.

Certain areas not in Special Flood Hazard Areas may be protected by structures or other flood control measures. To determine if your property is in a special flood hazard area and whether or not your property is protected, please contact the National Flood Insurance Program at 1-800-638-6620.

To obtain more detailed information in areas where flood elevations have been determined, users are encouraged to consult the Flood Profiles and Information Table located in the Flood Insurance Study report for this jurisdiction.

This map reflects more detailed and up-to-date information than is available on other maps. A data source for this FIRM is the National Flood Insurance Program (FIP), which is a master database of information from many sources. The FIP is maintained by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and is based on information submitted to FEMA by various state agencies and local floodplain managers. Where possible, this information has been updated to the data available through this FIP. In some cases, this information may not be current. For more detailed and up-to-date information, please refer to the separately printed Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM) panel, which was issued in digital format by the State of [State Name] and compiled at a scale of 1:400 from aerial photography dated March 2006.

Base map information shown on this FIRM map was compiled in digital format by the State of [State Name] and the U.S. Census Bureau. This information was geospatially referenced to a scale of 1:24,000 from aerial photography dated [date].

To obtain more detailed information in areas where flood elevations have been determined, users are encouraged to consult the Flood Profiles and Information Table located in the Flood Insurance Study report for this jurisdiction.

These flood elevations must be compared to structure and ground elevations referenced to NGVD29. Differences in datum, zone, and elevation between the Flood Insurance Study report and any other jurisdiction may result in slight positional differences in map features across jurisdiction boundaries.

Certain areas not in Special Flood Hazard Areas may be protected by structures or other flood control measures. To determine if your property is in a special flood hazard area and whether or not your property is protected, please contact the National Flood Insurance Program at 1-800-638-6620.

To obtain more detailed information in areas where flood elevations have been determined, users are encouraged to consult the Flood Profiles and Information Table located in the Flood Insurance Study report for this jurisdiction.

These flood elevations must be compared to structure and ground elevations referenced to NGVD29. Differences in datum, zone, and elevation between the Flood Insurance Study report and any other jurisdiction may result in slight positional differences in map features across jurisdiction boundaries.

Certain areas not in Special Flood Hazard Areas may be protected by structures or other flood control measures. To determine if your property is in a special flood hazard area and whether or not your property is protected, please contact the National Flood Insurance Program at 1-800-638-6620.

To obtain more detailed information in areas where flood elevations have been determined, users are encouraged to consult the Flood Profiles and Information Table located in the Flood Insurance Study report for this jurisdiction.

These flood elevations must be compared to structure and ground elevations referenced to NGVD29. Differences in datum, zone, and elevation between the Flood Insurance Study report and any other jurisdiction may result in slight positional differences in map features across jurisdiction boundaries.

Certain areas not in Special Flood Hazard Areas may be protected by structures or other flood control measures. To determine if your property is in a special flood hazard area and whether or not your property is protected, please contact the National Flood Insurance Program at 1-800-638-6620.

To obtain more detailed information in areas where flood elevations have been determined, users are encouraged to consult the Flood Profiles and Information Table located in the Flood Insurance Study report for this jurisdiction.

These flood elevations must be compared to structure and ground elevations referenced to NGVD29. Differences in datum, zone, and elevation between the Flood Insurance Study report and any other jurisdiction may result in slight positional differences in map features across jurisdiction boundaries.

Certain areas not in Special Flood Hazard Areas may be protected by structures or other flood control measures. To determine if your property is in a special flood hazard area and whether or not your property is protected, please contact the National Flood Insurance Program at 1-800-638-6620.