NOTES TO USERS

The map is for use only in connection with current flood hazard data. It is not to be used for any other purpose. The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) does not accept liability for any actions taken in reliance on this map.

The map may also be used with the National Flood Insurance Program. It is not to be used for any other purpose. The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) does not accept liability for any actions taken in reliance on this map.

This map is intended to depict flood hazard conditions as they existed and to portray floodplains and floodplain information as they existed as of the date shown on the map. The Flood Insurance Study (FIS) report that accompanied this FIRM map is to be consulted to determine the actual flood hazard condition at the time the FIS report was published. The FIS report also contains information necessary for the computation of flood insurance premiums.

The use of this map is subject to the conditions of the General Map Use Agreement of MAPS-PLUS.

The map is intended to depict flood hazard conditions as they existed and to portray floodplains and floodplain information as they existed as of the date shown on the map. The Flood Insurance Study (FIS) report that accompanied this FIRM map is to be consulted to determine the actual flood hazard condition at the time the FIS report was published. The FIS report also contains information necessary for the computation of flood insurance premiums.

The use of this map is subject to the conditions of the General Map Use Agreement of MAPS-PLUS.